From one group of satisfied customers:

“We extend a warm thank you for your patience, diligence and hard work in constructing a first quality honor guard uniform. The comments and accolades we have received for the sharpness and uniqueness of these uniforms has been overwhelming.”

About Canterbury Clothing

Established in the 1930's in Watertown, Massachusetts, we have been supplying police departments, fire departments, military organizations, and various fraternal groups. We supply groups around the country with quality custom made uniforms.

We have manufacturing facilities located in Quincy, Massachusetts. Old world craftsmanship is used in our canvas construction methods. We make a fully constructed garment to the highest standards, including the finest uniform fabrics and interlinings.
